

How can I get a shipping price quote on a rear end?

Ford 9" Rear Ends: Ford 9" rear ends ship via UPS Ground. We are unable to calculate the shipping charge on the website. You can place your order for the rear end and we will contact you for your approval of the UPS Ground shipping charge before processing your order. You can email your complete shipping address along with a complete list of items you will be ordering to our sales department for a shipping quote ahead of time.

12 Bolt, Dana 60 and Other Rear Ends: 12 Bolt, Dana 60 and all other rear ends must ship via truck freight, they will normally ship via UPS Freight. We are unable to calculate the truck freight shipment charge on the website. You can place your order for the rear end and we will contact you for your approval of the truck freight shipment charge before processing your order. If at all possible have your rear end shipped to a business address as it is MUCH cheaper than shipping to a residential address for truck freight shipments. For residential deliveries the freight company requires delivery via a truck equipped with a liftgate. For commercial address deliveries you can choose to get delivery with a liftgate or without a liftgate if there is a loading dock or forklift available at the location, this is the lowest cost truck freight delivery option. You can email your complete shipping address along with a complete list of items you will be ordering to our sales department for a shipping quote ahead of time. Be sure to also note if it is a residential or commercial ship to address and whether you will need a lift gate or not.

<https://www.spohn.net/support/questions/270/>