

I'm ordering a rear end, what is the back brace option?

A back brace is welded on the length of the housing (on the rear side). The back brace adds rear end housing rigidity for high horse power applications.

<https://www.spohn.net/support/questions/310/>